Condemnation of Line for Its Inadequate Life-Saving Facilities Is General Today

London Papers Ask Sweeping Remodeling of Laws Governing Life-Saving Equipment

NEW YORK, April 17.—General condemnation of the White Star line officials for the suppression of news of the Titanic Monday was voiced by New York newspapers today. The lack of lifeboats was also generally condemned. Following are extracts from the principal editorials:

From the New York Press: "Popular anger blazed up on the discovery that the lifeboat capacity of the destroyed giant of the seas was about one-third the cargo of human freight. This passion has been fanned by the conviction of deceit in the White Star home office the day before, which cruelty is now being to have been a deliberate deception of the heart wrung relatives begging pitifully for the truth. That passion was inflamed to white heat by the stupid boasts of the home office that its steamship was unsinkable when the home office knew the Titanic had gone to the bottom many hours before."

Loss Unnecessary
From the New York Times: "It seems an assured fact that if the Titanic had carried enough lifeboats to hold all its human cargo there would have been no loss of life."

From the New York World: "Out of the wreckage emerges one clear and unmistakable fact—if 800 passengers could be saved with the insufficient lifeboat equipment of the Titanic, all of them could have been saved if there had been enough boats to take them off."

Vengeance Demanded
LONDON, April 17.—Vengeance for the 1,492 persons that went down to death in the sea with the ice-crushed Titanic was demanded today by practically every London journal. The deplorable lack of life-saving facilities aboard the gigantic liner has aroused widespread indignation, and there was today a universal demand for a drastic investigation of the conditions under which all modern trans-Atlantic steamers conduct their desperate speed competition to cut a few hours from the sailing time between Europe and America.

Editorially the newspapers demand that the speed mania be stopped, that the dangerous northerly course, where the Titanic met disaster, be deserted and the longer, but safer southern route, be followed throughout the year.

The revision of the board of trade regulations as to life saving facilities was also demanded.

Raft Not Launched
The White Star line officials admitted that the Titanic carried but 20 lifeboats in her davits. These boats had a capacity of 970 passengers and from the list of survivors it appeared that one or more boats

EXTRA ANOTHER SHIP SINKS; 200 MAY HAVE BEEN LOST

CAPE RACE, N. S., April 17.—The Earl Grey, an unknown steamer, with 200 passengers aboard, after sending frantic "S. O. S." calls for ten minutes, sank off the Newfoundland banks late this afternoon, according to wireless messages received here at the local wireless station. It is not known to what line the sunken steamer belongs, nor is the description of the ship known. From the fact that she was equipped with wireless, however, it is thought if the messages have been correctly read, she must have been a large boat of some well known line.

Every effort to speak to the ship after she had sent out a series of "S. O. S." calls and other messages which said "Need immediate assistance, are sinking," have proved futile.

OFFICIALS KEPT BACK THE NEWS

Montreal Receives Wireless that Shows Company Gave Out Misleading Reports

THEY FAKED THE GOOD NEWS

Reports that All Were Safe Now Believed to Have Originated in New York

MONTREAL, April 17.—Wireless dispatches today indicate that the sinking of the liner Titanic was known to the officials of the White Star line long before it was made public and at the very time that reassuring reports asserting that all on board had been saved were being given out.

Many of the messages sent out on Monday declaring that the passengers and crew of the Titanic were safe, it was ascertained, originated in the New York office of the White Star line. It is known that the news of the disaster was sent to Montreal on Monday afternoon, was confirmed by a telephone message from New York and was kept absolutely quiet for hours. Meanwhile the White Star line reassuring bulletins continued. The dispatch received in Montreal saying the Virginian was towing the Titanic in port came from the wireless operator at Cape Race, who was in a position to furnish the most authentic news of the disaster. His message was addressed to the press of Canada and the United States and was accepted here and transmitted elsewhere as authentic. No explanation has been received from operator, but it is believed he received wireless which in his judgment warranted his message.

Both the public and marine circles were bitter today at the suppression on Monday of the all-important news of the great loss of life by the White Star officials.

Claim News Came Monday

NEW YORK, April 17.—That the fate of the Titanic was known in New York on Monday morning, was the statement made unofficially at the offices of the Cunard line today. It was said that on Monday morning a prominent New Yorker appeared at the Cunard offices and declared that a "person in authority" had received a message telling of the sinking of the great liner. He was urged to make the news public, but declared it must be "suppressed" according to this story.

MILITIA TO STOP FIGHT

FORT SMITH, Ark., April 17.—Carl Morris will not re-enter the prize fight ring if Governor Donaghey can help it. The governor has issued orders to the sheriff to call out the militia if necessary to prevent Morris from fighting Con Comiskey here next month.

BROCKTON, Mass., April 17.—So distressed by the news that her cousin, John E. Maguire, of this city, was lost on the Titanic, Miss Katherine E. Maguire, aged 50, tottered alone after reading the details in a newspaper, and died soon afterward.

MILWAUKEE MOURNS DISASTER

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 17.—With his inauguration into office late yesterday, Mayor G. A. Bading's official act today was to order flags at half-mast on all public buildings as an expression of sorrow for the loss of life in the Titanic disaster.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 17.—J. E. Davies, member of the democratic national committee from Wisconsin, was re-elected by the delegates to the national convention at their meeting, held in the Plankinton, Tuesday afternoon.

The Wilson men sprung a coup on the minority which took them off their feet. The democrats of Wisconsin will hold a state convention this year. A committee will meet within ten days or two weeks after the close of the national convention at Baltimore to issue a call for a state convention and fix the date for the same.

LAST MOMENTS OF SHIP DESCRIBED

Vessel Reached Angle of 49 Degrees Before Making the Final Plunge

LONDON, April 17.—A thrilling story of what is termed the "Last Moments of the Titanic," was published here this afternoon. It did not give the source of the information, but, according to the account, the great ship sunk by the head and had reached an angle of about 49 degrees before the final plunge came.

The passengers retreated to the stern as the vessel began to tilt forward. Many hurriedly put out life belts. Some lost their footing and fell overboard. Others jumped overboard, hoping to be able to swim away from the vessel before she took her final plunge. The Titanic went down bow foremost, the stern and her propellers flying high into the air.

The captain and his officers were seen clinging to the bridge. As the leviathan sank beneath the ocean a great spout of water showed that the boiler had exploded. There must have been at least thirty explosions in the furnace room as the sea water reached the fires.

The authorities at the admiralty compute the Titanic's position at the bottom as not less than eight miles from the spot where she sank. They say it must have taken thirteen minutes to reach the bottom and that at the spot where she now lies the water chart is indicated as two and one-quarter miles deep.

The passengers who were sucked down by the whirlpool that followed the sinking of the steamer were suffocated. Those who had attached life belts will come to the surface as their bodies be recovered.

TITANIC CAPTAIN IS KNOWN HERE

Mrs. James Kerr Became Acquainted with Smith and Many of Crew on Trip

Mrs. James Kerr, 901 Vine street, remembers the captain and crew of the Titanic. Mrs. Kerr crossed on the Adriatic in 1910. At that time the Adriatic was the largest of the White Star liners, and was commanded by Capt. Edward John Smith and the late officers of the Titanic crew. Mrs. Kerr recalls Capt. Smith as a congenial man, popular with the passengers, and pleasant indeed to meet. Other members of the Adriatic crew lost on the Titanic, with whom Mrs. Kerr became acquainted during the voyage, were Purser McElroy and Chief Steward Latimer, and Dr. O'Laughlin, the ship's surgeon.

Captain Smith and his famous crew were transferred from the Adriatic to the Olympic when the latter succeeded the former as the greatest White Star liner, and were again shifted to the Titanic when that unfortunate ship came to usurp the place of the Olympic.

Passengers and Crew of the Olympic Mourn Death of Hundreds Who Went with Vessel

NEW YORK, April 17.—There are only 705 survivors of the Titanic on board the Carpathia, according to a wireless message received here at 1:10 this afternoon. The message in full is as follows: "The steamship Franconi established communication with the Carpathia at 6:10 New York time Wednesday morning. At that hour the Carpathia was 189 miles east of Ambrose Light and was making 13 knots. She was in no need of assistance. The Carpathia has 705 survivors of the Titanic on board. The Franconi is relaying personal messages from the survivors to Sable Island."

ON BOARD THE STEAMSHIP OLYMPIC, EASTBOUND, (By Wireless to Cape Race and Land Lines to New York.) April 17.—The bodies of some, at least, of the victims of the lost Titanic will be brought, probably to Boston, on the Leyland liner Californian. Wireless advices reaching us from the scene of the disaster say that some have already been recovered. They will be tenderly cared for, and we understand that they will be taken to port as soon as the Californian resumed her interrupted voyage, just when we do not know.

Olympic Helpless
The Olympic is proceeding. She could do nothing. The realization of the tragedy, followed by the knowledge that the younger sister of the Olympic went to the bottom while this great vessel was rushing to her aid at top speed and hoping against hope that she would get there on time has stunned all on board.

The captain's seat in the dining saloon, his cabin, everything about the Olympic is a reminder of Captain Smith, first commander of the Olympic, who lost his life on the bridge of the sister ship. There is little talking among the passengers. In hushed whispers passengers and sailors alike discuss the tragedy which is brought squarely home to everyone here.

Hurried Back
Since the word was received that the Titanic had struck a berg, the apprehension has been very great. As soon as Captain Haddock received the first wireless word of the disaster he turned the Olympic's prow toward the scene and sent her ahead at full speed. There was hope that we might arrive in time. That hope was shattered when we got into wireless reach of the Carpathia and the full news of the tragedy was received.

The words of the tragedy shocked and appalled everyone. The Olympic's orchestra was hushed, the instruments were put into their cases and will not be heard again on this voyage, at least.

After remaining almost stationary most of Tuesday, relaying the list of survivors from the Carpathia, Captain Haddock was ordered to proceed on his voyage. Not until then was the use of the wireless permitted for any other purpose.

Haddock Saw Danger
The above message received from Roy W. Howard, general news manager of the United Press at the New York office this morning cleared up

White Star Company Characters Vessel at Halifax to Look for Victims

SEND SHIPOLOAD OF COFFINS

Eighty Men and an Undertaker Take Vessel with Gruesome Cargo to Sea

IT WILL COMB THE SEAS

Grappling Iron and Nets Taken to Facilitate the Hunt for Bodies of Those Lost

(By a Staff Correspondent of the United Press.)
HALIFAX, N. S., April 17.—With 200 coffins, practically the entire supply of caskets in this town, stacked on her forward deck, the cable ship Mackay-Bennett sailed this afternoon to explore the scene of the foundering of the Titanic and pick up any floating bodies, restoring them to loved ones ashore.

When this mournful death ship passed out of the harbor thousands of citizens lined the docks, making a silent demonstration of sympathetic interest and a British flag at the citadel was dropped to half-mast.

Undertaker on Board
In addition to her crew of 80 men the Mackay-Bennett carried an undertaker and a staff of embalmers, a full equipment of embalming implements and a large quantity of ice.

If any bodies are found they will be brought here. It is not believed that the ship will return before ten days. She carries a wireless outfit and news of the finding of bodies that can be identified will be flashed to the White Star officials in New York.

Half a dozen small boats equipped with grappling irons and nets were taken for use in combing the sea for bodies.

Hope to Find Many
The belief that many bodies may be found is based upon the success of a similar expedition after the French liner La Bourgoyne, which was sunk in collision off this port. Scores of bodies were picked up at sea for two weeks after that disaster.

Vincent Astor is depending upon Mackay-Bennett to find the body of his father, if possible. No attempt of course, will be made to penetrate to the two mile depth where the Titanic is now resting, this being impossible for divers, according to marine men here.

To Flash Results
Captain Laraborn of the cable ship before sailing said: "We are under charter of the White Star company. Just as soon as any body is found and identified a wireless message will be sent to the White Star company in New York. I expect that we will spend two or three days at the scene of disaster exploring the field. The bodies will be tenderly cared for and returned to Halifax as soon as possible."

The freighter Anne from London, arrived here today for coal. She carried no wireless and her crew had not heard of the Titanic disaster until this port was reached. Hundreds of messages are piled up at the wireless stations here and at Cape Race for transmission to Carpathia. These are from frantic friends and relatives asking for news of survivors.

So great is the accumulation of messages that the wireless operators have no hope of clearing them today or tomorrow.

No Relief
Wireless waves are searching the seas again today for tidings from the vapor-enshrouded deep that would clear away some of the mystery of the world's greatest marine catastrophe. There was no relief in the feverish suspense in the great throng of watchers for news from the scene of the great wreck of the Titanic, today, though the marine observers strained their eyes into the dense fog of the harbor for sight of some vessel bearing tidings of the catastrophe.

Await Parisian
The Allan liner Parisian, which is supposed to have visited the scene of the wreck, but too late to be of any service to the survivors was expected in this port, but on account of the dense fog may not come up until later today. It is known that she

ONLY 700 SAVED IS MESSAGE FROM CARPATHIA TODAY

Marconi Wireless Company Announces it Has Reached the Rescuing Vessel Through Franconia

WHITE STAR FIGURES CHANGE

First Report Was 675 Rescued and Later Was Raised to 868 Without Revealing Source

STOCK MARKET SUPPRESSION

Reports Rife That Stock Market Influences Kept News of Disaster From World Monday

FATE OF TITANIC'S PASSENGERS:
White Star line figures:
On board 2,178.
Saved, 868.
Lost, 1,310.
Marconi wireless figures:
Saved, 700.
Lost, 2,000.

NEW YORK, April 17.—Renewed apprehension that the number saved was not as large as the White Star officials have insisted, came today when the Marconi company issued what it termed an official statement that it had reached the Carpathia through the Franconi and that there were only 700 survivors of the disaster, while "over 2,000 were lost." It seemed certain that until the scout cruisers now on the way reach the Carpathia and report, the real figures of lost and saved will not be available.

Raised Number
The first report credited to the captain of the Carpathia fixed the number saved at 675, later the White Star people here said that there had been 868 saved, but failed to reveal their source of information. As the word were on it became almost a certainty that some one had been maintaining a censorship over the wireless.

Captain Rostron of the Carpathia sent a wireless dispatch to his owners here as soon as he reached the scene and found the Titanic had sunk. That message was held up for nearly twenty-four hours.

Influence Held Reports
Suggestions that powerful influences prevented the news of the disaster reaching the world while the stock market was open on Monday, were being made in several places today and it is even intimated that misleading wireless were sent out in order that the impression that the Titanic was safe would be upheld during the hours the European and American markets were open.

Suggestions of a government inquiry to decide how much truth there was in the stories were being made today.

The peculiar secretive tactics adopted by the White Star line since the accident to the Titanic continued today, when, after giving out a supplementary list of the rescued with the announcement that it had been received by wireless, the company denied that it had so been received.

Ismay Criticized
"We are not in communication with the Carpathia and have not been since yesterday," said the line's official. The result has been bitter criticism, especially in view of the knowledge that among the men saved is J. Bruce Ismay, managing director of the line. His presence on the Carpathia was believed by many to be responsible for the failure of the Carpathia to send the details of the wreck. There was also much criticism among relatives who had loved ones because Ismay had not remained with the ship but the officers of the line claimed that he had gone with the boats because it was deemed necessary to have some one in authority in charge.

Third Class Thronged
There were not as many inquiries at the offices of the line today so far as the first and second cabin passengers were concerned, but many thronged the third class offices. There were young couples who were expecting aged parents for whose passage money they had toiled long and laboriously. Then there were stalwart workers who were expecting the sweethearts who were to make homes for them in the "Promised Land." There was little information for any of them because the officials had not yet completed the comparisons of the list of the saved with the steerage lists just received.

Some of the inquiries could not

ICEBERGS DANGER TO ALL STEAMERS

Captain of the Republic Declares that Sinking of Titanic After Crash Was to Be Expected

ANN ARBOR, Mich., April 17.—Captain Inman Sealby of the ill-fated Republic, of the White Star line, at the time it was rammed and sunk by the steamer Florida, and who is now a senior law student at the University of Michigan, expressed no surprise yesterday that a steamer like the Titanic had gone to the bottom, after having struck an iceberg. Captain Sealby spent 25 years on the large steamers of the Atlantic before leaving to take up his studies here, and is thoroughly conversant with the dangers.

"The most dangerous thing that a captain of a large steamer has to contend with are icebergs," said the captain. "The reason for this is because they so closely resemble water."

"The reason boats like the Titanic should sink, or even though Mr. Franklin says it could be half full of water and still float, is probably because the ship struck the iceberg a glancing blow and then later scraped alongside, breaking in most of the bulkheads. There is no danger of losing a large boat if it strikes head-on. The most it could do in that case, would be to cave in fifty or 100 feet of the bow."

"This has been an unusual winter in the North Atlantic and the ice commenced to come down early in the North Atlantic and the ice called north and south tracks. The steamer travel the north track until about April 15."

RESTORE MEN to VITAL VIGOR

It is the strong vital, manly man who has the courage to face all dangers—who succeeds in life.

Vitality is the thing which makes success; it gives men that compelling power which sends them forth eager and equipped to meet and overcome all obstacles; it is the thing which gives the young soldier courage to face death; it is the thing which inspires and holds his sweetheart's love and faith. No matter what your age, I can give you this same vital power. I can restore the vigor you lost, no matter what early or later indiscretion may have sapped your strength. I can make you "young" and keep you "young." From an intimate and studious observation of possibly 100,000 weakened men, I say to you that VITALITY or lack of it means all the difference between a manly man and a half man. The man who bubbles with vital power will exert a pleasing influence upon all with whom he comes in contact; women are naturally attracted to him, as are men. Lack of vitality is a negative condition, and it even repels. You wear my HEALTH BELT all night; it sends a great, glowing, health-giving current of electro-vitality into your nerves, blood and organs; it takes all the "kink" out of your back and all the coward out of your make-up; it puts you right up in the "feeling fine" class and keeps you there. No stimulation, no false results; just a sure return to manhood and courage. Recommended also for rheumatism, pain in the back, kidney, liver, stomach and bladder disorders. It makes you feel young and keeps you feeling young forever.

The management of the La Crosse Theater takes pleasures in announcing the engagement of "The Heart Breakers," the latest musical comedy from The Princess Theater, Chicago. This is the only engagement in Wisconsin and they come with a special train on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, arriving at 11 a. m. George Damerel, late of Merry Widow fame, heads the company. Critics all over the country have been unstinting in their praise of this clever comedy with music. There will be a matinee and night performance Sunday, April 21st.

The story of the "Heart Breakers" deals with the adventures of a band of bold young blades, whose avowed purpose in life is the kissing of girls. At this delicate art these ambitious youths are adepts, and they are well versed between the nice distinctions of the kiss caressing and the kiss compassionate, and the peck conjugal. They progress debonairly on their mad osculatory conquest until they attempt to exercise their fatal fascinations upon an ingenuous maiden, who in the play is known simply as The Girl, played by Miss Ruth Peebles. This alluring lassie has been brought up by her father in ignorance of masculine attentions, and she is moreover most jealously guarded by her watchful parent. In desperation, the hapless heart breakers disguise themselves and enter the old gentleman's castle as servants, in order to be near their inamorata. They are, however, distraught by jealousy of one another, and many complications set in. Eventually, none the less, the Master Heart Breaker, George Damerel, pursues The Girl to a mountain fastness, succeeds in captivating the coy creature's heart, and at the cost of imminent marriage clears the blemish from the Heart Breakers record. Mort H. Singer under whose management the "Heart Breakers" will be seen has spared neither time nor expense to make this one of the most elaborate productions ever sent from the Princess Theater. Among the song hits are "Some Golden Day," "Honolulu Honey Lou," "Somewhere She's Flirting With Someone," and "Two to Duluth."

SAILOR JUMPS OVERBOARD

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Wireless dispatches from Norfolk, Va., received at the navy department today, reported the death of Frank C. Henderson, machinist's mate, second class, who jumped from a steam launch off Wells Point, Va., following a boiler explosion.

OCCIDENT HITS ICEBERG

FLENSBURG, Prussia, April 17.—The steamer Occident collided with an iceberg in the Baltic sea off Riga. Her entire bow was shattered but her captain managed to run her into shoal water before she began to sink and her passengers and crew were safely taken off.

FOR ALL MEN AND WOMEN

I will give you free a sample of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, that have brought health and happiness to thousands—also a book on any chronic disease you need.

The story of my free offer to you is quickly told. During my many years of practice I have used numerous combinations of curative medicines for liver ills. I have kept records of results in case after case, so that my staff of physicians and surgeons, at the Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., are able to diagnose and treat cases at a distance with uniform good results. I am going to send you free a sample package of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, which will relieve biliousness and ill health due to a disordered liver. Write at once for a sample or a book.

But for the permanent relief of blood disorders and impurities, I can recommend my "Golden Medical Discovery"—a blood medicine without alcohol.—R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

Nature's Way Is The Best.

Buried deep in our American forest we find bloodroot, queen's root, mandrake and stone root, golden seal, Oregon grape root and cherrybark. Of these Dr. R. V. Pierce made a pure glyceric extract which has been favorably known for over forty years. He called it "GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY."

This "Discovery" purifies the blood and tones up the stomach and the entire system in Nature's own way. It's just the tissue builder and tonic you require.

Dr. R. V. Pierce

Dr. Pierce says:—"Glycerine plays an important part in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach, attended by sour risings, heartburn, foul breath, coated tongue, poor appetite, gnawing feeling in stomach, biliousness and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchial, throat and lung affections, except consumption, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most efficient remedy, especially in those obstinate, hang-on-coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the bronchial mucous membranes. The "Discovery" is not so good for acute coughs arising from sudden colds, nor must it be expected to cure consumption in its advanced stages—no medicine will do that—but for all the obstinate, chronic coughs, which, if neglected, or badly treated, lead up to consumption, it is the best medicine that can be taken." Sold by all principal dealers in medicines.

To find out more about the above mentioned diseases and all about the body in health and disease, get the Common Sense Medical Adviser—the People's Schoolmaster in Medicine—revised and up-to-date book of 1000 pages—which treats of diseased conditions and the practical, successful treatment thereof. Cloth-bound sent post-paid on receipt of 31 cents in one-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing only. Address Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

COLONEL HAS QUIET DAY IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, April 17.—Colonel Roosevelt arrived here yesterday enroute to Nebraska in the presidential preference primary campaign. He arrived on the Pennsylvania and took a private car over the Burlington. The colonel and his party spent only a short time in the city, leaving at 9:45 for Hastings, Neb., where the speaking tour opens. Colonel Roosevelt had no "official" visitors at the depot, and he did not come up town but took a short spin upon the boulevards in an automobile.

Colonel Roosevelt was accompanied by Regis Post, former governor of Porto Rico, Hewitt Howland of the Outlook and Congressman Wilson.

S.S.S. CURES SKIN DISEASES

The cause of all skin diseases can be traced to some humor or acid in the blood; the cuticle is always healthy where the circulation is free from impurities. When the blood is infected with acid or unhealthy matter it cannot perform its natural work of nourishing the skin, regulating its temperature and preserving its normal softness, pliability and healthfulness. Instead it irritates and inflames the delicate fibres and tissues around the pores and glands and produces some of the many forms of skin disease. The itching and stinging so often accompanying skin affections are produced by the deposit from the blood of the acid humors with which it is filled, into the sensitive membranous flesh lying just beneath the outer covering, and surrounding the countless nerves, pores and glands. This explains why scratching the outer skin affords no relief from the itching and burning. S.S.S. cures Skin Diseases of every character by purifying the blood. It goes down into the circulation and removes the humors or acids which are causing the trouble, builds up the weak, acid blood, and permanently cures every variety of skin affection. Local applications can only soothe; they never cure because they do not reach the blood. S.S.S. goes right into the circulation, reaches the trouble and cures it by removing the cause. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice free to all who write.

SUSPICIOUS OF THEIR SILENCE

There seems to be a growing feeling that the officers of the White Star line have been guilty of a gross wrong in the matter of informing the public of the details of the Titanic disaster. It appears that not only did the company suppress the actual facts, but they sent out false and misleading messages.

From what has already been said by officers of the company, it may be inferred the defense will be that the company did not want to alarm the public until it knew positively that the ship was lost. That might have been a sufficient excuse for silence, but it in no way justifies affirmative misrepresentation.

While it may be surmised that the Titanic would still be afloat had it been run at speed as moderate as the danger of icebergs demanded, that is a matter for speculation, and had the company done its duty by the public after the catastrophe it would probably have escaped the condemnation which is falling upon it.

Today, three days after the disaster, the White Star line officials are still "censoring" the news and withholding information. The real reason for this may come out Thursday morning when the Carpathia, with the survivors, arrive in New York.

GETTING RID OF OURSELVES

At a recent meeting of the Guild of St. Luke, in New York City, statistics were presented which do not make pleasant reading for native-born Americans. They show that neither New York nor New England can justly censure the French on the score of race suicide.

In the city of New York the birth rate is given as 46 in every 1,000 of the population for Italians, 35 for Jews, 25 for Irish and 14 for Americans. The birth rate in this country, as in Europe, is lowest among the rich and thrifty. The birth rate in the advanced nations of the earth was lower at the close of the nineteenth century than at the close of the eighteenth.

What will be the future of this country when immigration practically ceases and the prosperity now enjoyed by the average native American is shared by the children of the foreign-born? Is the prediction to be borne out that the human race, as it increases the refinements of civilization, will gradually eliminate itself?

Two machines have been installed in the United States Treasury to wash money. Undoubtedly the Lorrimer and Stephenson consignments will receive first consideration.

Chicago certainly leads the parade. Having an all-night theater it is the only city in the country where the man who reaches home at 3 a. m. has a good excuse.

New York women have gone in for economy. They are purchasing their provisions personally and carrying them home in taxicabs.

Madison Square Garden is to stand for three years longer. And the public will have to stand for the shows that are pulled off in it.

It is hard to believe that the hydro-aeroplane can be made safe so long as it has a name like that.

Nevertheless it won't be safe to try kicking the umpire around.

TORYISM AND BOSSISM ARE STAGGERING

"The result of the presidential primary in Pennsylvania is little short of a political revolution," says the Milwaukee Journal. "In large measure it is determinative of the fate of party leaders and of party policies. It is big with the elements of destiny.

"On the republican side the overwhelming vote for Roosevelt appears at first glance to be the chief feature of the Pennsylvania primary, but when the situation is analyzed carefully, the crushing defeat of President Taft, the humiliation of Boss Boise Penrose and the wrecking of the latter's Tory machine take on stupendous significance. Taft and Penrose were inseparably linked in the campaign. Taft was Penrose, and Penrose was Taft. Taft's popularity is pronounced. It has been demonstrated in North Dakota, in Wisconsin and in Illinois—in almost every state in which the people have had an opportunity to express themselves. Now Pennsylvania, republican's greatest stronghold, its banner state, repudiates him in a manner that has few if any parallels.

"But while Taft met complete defeat, Penrose was overwhelmed by disaster. A few days ago the dictator of a great commonwealth, he is today a political wreck.

"On the democratic side Woodrow Wilson made almost a clean sweep in Pennsylvania. The latest advices agree that he has probably captured seventy-four out of the seventy-six delegates that Pennsylvania will send to Baltimore.

"The democrats of Pennsylvania, whatever their past may have been, have nobly redeemed themselves. They appear in shining contrast with the democrats of Illinois, who sank into the arms of the Tory allies.

"In Pennsylvania public sentiment has expressed itself clearly and strongly—and righteously—just as

If no one ever marries me—
And I don't see why they should;
For nurse says I'm not pretty,
And I'm seldom very good.

If no one ever marries me,
I shan't mind very much;
I shall buy a squirrel in a cage,
And a little rabbit hutch.

I shall have a cottage near a wood,
And a pony of my own,
And a little lamb quite neat and clean
That I can take to town.

And when I'm getting really old,
At twenty-eight or nine,
I shall buy a little orphan girl
And bring her up as mine.

Her Cyclone Toilet

It was in the cyclone season, and a bad storm having come up in the night, Mrs. Hall roused her family, and they hurried into their clothes, preparatory to retiring to the cellar.

The 13-year-old daughter, who was just beginning to be particular as to what she wore, hastened—before dressing—into her youngest aunt's room, and although half-crying inquired: "Aunt Nellie, would you wear your hobbie skirt if you were me?"—Youth's Companion.

Not a Real Throw

Joseph H. Choate, at a benefit in New York, told a story about a pair of sweethearts.

"Two young girls," he said, "were drinking tea at Sherry's when a young man passed. As he passed the first girl blushed, displayed a beautiful ring on her white hand and murmured:

"Well, Jack and I are to be married Easter week."

"But," said the other girl, "I thought you had thrown Jack over."

"Oh, so I did," the first replied: "but—but you know how a girl throws."—Washington Star.

An Appropriate Motto

An Emporia boy was found dead sick by his father. Investigation developed that he had been smoking a pipe. "I hope this will be a lesson to you," said the stern parent. "Of what motto does this painful experience remind you?"

The boy studied a minute and moaned: "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again."—Kansas City Star.

Sam Knew the Real Governor

The late Senator Taylor was fond of telling an incident that happened while he was governor of Tennessee. Then he was quite irregular in coming to his meals. At times he forgot to come to luncheon. That annoyed Mrs. Taylor very much. One day the governor came to his midday meal on the dot. Scarcely had he got into the house when his negro body servant came to the door with the information that there were three men in the capitol who wished to see him.

"Tell them, Sam," Governor Taylor said, "that I shall be down immediately."

"You will tell them, Sam," said Mrs. Taylor, "that the governor will be there in half an hour."

"Inform the gentlemen," said Governor Taylor, positively, "that I'll be there right away."

"Sam, the governor will be there in half an hour," remarked Mrs. Taylor, just as positively and firmly.

"Sam," said the governor, thinking to end the argument, "you know who the governor of Tennessee is, don't you?"

"Yes, seh; yes, seh," answered Sam. "I suddenly do. I'll tell the gentlemen you'll be there in half an hour."—Washington Post.

JOHNSON SAYS HE WILL SOON RETIRE

CHICAGO, April 17.—Jack Johnson says his announcement that he would retire on Labor Day from the world's heavyweight championship is no joke. The big black laid plans to go into business next fall and says he expects to leave the fight game strictly alone.

"I've spent so much money in cafes, I believe I ought to know how to run one right," said Johnson. "I'm going to start up the finest place in the country for colored folks. It will be right here in Chicago. Plans were practically completed yesterday."

CALIFORNIA MAY BRING BACK BODIES

BOSTON, Mass., April 17.—At the offices of the Leyland line it was stated today that their steamer Californian, which has been cruising about the scene of the wreck of the Titanic, has started for port, according to wireless from Cape Race. They decline to say whether there were bodies of victims or survivors on board, but it is known that she combed every bit of the sea in the vicinity of the wreck. It is not believed the Californian will reach here until some time tomorrow.

DISFIGURED WITH SCALES AND CRUSTS

Eczema from Top of Head to Waist. Suffered Untold Agony and Pain. Doctors Said It Could Not Be Cured. Set of Cuticura Remedies Successful When All Else Had Failed.

"Some time ago I was taken with eczema from the top of my head to my waist. It began with scales on my body. I suffered untold itching and burning, and could not sleep. I was greatly disfigured with scales and crusts. My ears looked as if they had been most cut off with a razor, and my neck was perfectly raw. I suffered untold agony and pain. I tried two doctors who said I had eczema in its fullest stage, and that it could not be cured. I then tried other remedies to no avail. At last, I tried a set of the genuine Cuticura Remedies, which cured me. Cuticura Remedies cured me of eczema when all else had failed, therefore I cannot praise them too highly.

"I suffered with eczema about ten months, but am now entirely cured, and I believe Cuticura Remedies are the best skin cure there is." (Signed) Miss Mattie J. Shaffer, R. F. D. 1, Box 8, Dancy, Miss., Oct. 27, 1910.

"I had suffered from eczema about four years when I began to break out on different parts of my body. It started with a fine red rash. My back was affected first, when it also spread over my face. The itching was almost unbearable at times. I tried different soaps and salves, but nothing seemed to help me until I began to use the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. One box of them cured me entirely. I recommended them to my sister for her baby who was troubled with tooth eczema, and they completely cured her baby." (Signed) Mrs. L. J. Barberger, Drehtersville, Pa., Sept. 6, 1910.

Although Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, a liberal sample of each, with 32-page booklet on the skin and hair, will be sent, post-free, on application to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 4B, Boston.

TVEITMOE TO FACE JURY IN THE EAST

Olaf Tveitmoe.

The labor interests of Los Angeles fighting the government in defense of Olaf Tveitmoe, secretary of the California State Building Trades Council, are joyous at getting the trial changed to Indianapolis. It is thought there will not be so much feeling against the prisoner as on the coast. Tveitmoe is charged with complicity in the alleged nation-wide dynamite conspiracy. The government is confident of its case, and is perfectly willing to have the case tried in Indianapolis.

TITANIC WRECK SHOCKS GOV. DIX

ALBANY, N. Y., April 17.—"I am inexpressibly shocked and pained," said Governor Dix today, on the Titanic disaster. "The appalling extent of tragedy staggers the imagination and overwhelms the mind with grief. At such a time what can one do but attempt to give voice to the profound sympathy for the bereaved, that fills the heart, and pray that they may be given strength which is beyond human power to bestow." Among those saved from the Titanic was Mrs. A. F. Leader of New York, a sister-in-law of State Conservation Commissioner Moore. She had been abroad for some time.

Doctors Said He Would Die

A Friend's Advice Saves Life

I wish to speak of the wonderful cure that I have received from your noted Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder cure. Last summer I was taken with severe pains in my back and sides, I could not breathe without difficulty. I tried all the different doctors from far and near, but they said it was no use to doctor as I would die anyway. I was at the end of my rope and was so miserable with pain and the thought that I must die that words cannot tell how I felt. One day a friend told me of the wonderful help she received from Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. She gave me one of your pamphlets which I read and determined to try Swamp-Root. After taking half a bottle I felt better. Have now taken ten bottles and am well as I ever was, thanks to Swamp-Root. I wish to tell all suffering people that have kidney, liver or bladder trouble, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is the best medicine on the market.

All persons doubting this statement can write to me and I will answer them directly.

Yours very truly,

The Yellow Letter

A FASCINATING MYSTERY STORY.
BY WILLIAM JOHNSON.

"When did you see your sister last?"

"We had luncheon together. She was sweet and kind, as she always was, but I could see that something was worrying her. We were to have gone shopping together this afternoon, but she told me that she had an errand that would make it impossible for her to go with me. I had received your note, so I told her that it would suit me much better to put the shopping off until tomorrow. Right after luncheon she went out—where, I do not know. She did not use the car or call a taxi. All I know is that she was gone about two hours. When she came in I was arranging the flowers in the dining-room. I heard her enter and came out into the hall. She walked right past me without a word and went upstairs to her own room. I ran up after her, thinking she might be ill, but just as I got to the door I heard her turn the key. I understood that she wished to be alone. About half an hour later I heard a loud like a shot and rushed up-stairs, calling to the servants. We found the door still locked and we could hear her groaning. I had the butler burst open the door and there we found her, just where she was when you saw her, still as death, with her own little revolver clutched in her hand."

"What do you suppose made her change her mind about going shopping with you?" I asked. "Did she receive any letters or telegrams today?"

Louise thought for a moment before answering, her slender form still shaken with silent sobbing. Gently I brushed away the tears that gathered in her eyes and drew her to me until her head was pillowed on my shoulder. I doubt that if in her distress she noticed my action, save in the sense of comfort that it brought her. How terrible it is to see the woman that you love suffer so much and to feel powerless to do anything to help her!

"No," said Louise, "I am positive Katharine received no letter or telegram today except an invitation or two that we read at breakfast. We were together practically all the time until after luncheon."

"Perhaps some one telephoned to her," I suggested.

Louise did not recall any message. We summoned her sister's maid, who was crouching outside the door like a faithful animal, and put the question to her. She was in such a hysterical state that it was difficult to make her understand what we wanted, but finally she remembered that there had been a telephone call just before twelve.

"Who wanted her?" asked Louise and I together.

The girl shook her head as if bewildered.

"Think, think," I commanded. "What was the name? Who was it? If you answered the telephone, whoever it was must have given his name."

Stupidly she shook her head again.

"Was it Mr. Crandall?" asked Louise.

Light came into Hilda's face at once.

"Now I remember," she exclaimed. "Dot was him. It was Mr. Crandall."

The name meant nothing to me and I turned to Louise for explanation. Though there were many callers at the Farrish home, I never had met a Mr. Crandall, nor had I even heard the name mentioned.

"It must have been Hugh Crandall," said Louise. "I was afraid that it was he."

Her remark puzzled me. The only Hugh Crandall I knew anything about was a prosperous young broker whom I never had met personally, though I had seen his name occasionally in connection with exchange and club affairs.

"Do you mean Hugh Crandall, the broker?" I asked.

Louise nodded, and leaning against my shoulder, told me of a chapter of the family history with which I was wholly unfamiliar. This man, it seemed, had met her sister two years before on a steamer on which they were returning from Europe. After that he had been a frequent visitor at the Farrish home. Katharine was very fond of him, and he had been in high favor both with the general and Louise. Though no formal announcement of an engagement had been made, Crandall was looked on by every one as Miss Farrish's most favored suitor. About three months ago, just prior to the time when I first met Louise, his visits to the house had suddenly ceased.

"I'm sure," Louise explained, "that Katharine cared for him very much. She and father had a bitter quarrel about him, though why, I never could understand, for father had always seemed to like him. There was something strange about the way his visits ended. Father came home one day at noon looking worried. He called Katharine into the library and shut the door. I could hear Katharine pleading with him and once or twice I heard both their voices raised as if in anger. When my sister came out her eyes were red as if she had been weeping. She went at once to her room and did not come down to dinner. When Mr. Crandall called that night she came down to see him, but he stayed only about ten minutes. He demanded an interview with father, and father refused to see him. He left the house in heat and never has been here since. For several days Katharine seemed much depressed but she volunteered no confidence and I hesitated to ask her any questions to have recovered after a while wholly, and I was convinced that she had made up her mind to let Mr. Crandall go out of her life."

"What effect did this have on the relations between your father and sister?" I asked, seeking in vain for a motive that would have caused Katharine to attempt her life.

"None whatever that I could see. Through it all, except for that one afternoon, Katharine's attitude toward father has been most lovable. If anything, it seemed to me that she was tenderer toward him afterward than before."

"Do you suppose she has been meeting Crandall surreptitiously?" Louise quickly and indignantly

Milady's Toilet Table

By Mme. D'MILLE

A good complexion is within reach of every woman. All it requires is proper care. Throw away powders and cosmetics, live in the open air as much as possible and use a simple solution made by dissolving an original package of mayatone in a half-pint whiskey. Gently massage face, neck and arms with this solution and you will be delighted with results. Its effect is instantaneous, and in a short time the skin is smooth, soft, satiny and girlish.

To keep the hair bright, fluffy and youthful looking use a dry shampoo two or three times a month. Washing the hair makes it faded and brittle. Put a cupful of corn meal in a fruit jar and mix with it an original package of theorex; sprinkle a little on the head and brush out. It brushes out easily, takes all dust, dandruff and excess oil with it and leaves the hair clean, bright, wavy and rich in color.

To stop headache, or ache in back of joints, reduce swelling, allay inflammation, to relieve pain in any part of the body, apply Mother's Salve, rubbing in well. It is used for neuralgia, rheumatism, lumbago, etc. The world never saw its equal as a pain killer.

Superfluous hair on face or forehead can be quickly and easily removed at home by applying delatone paste. Make enough paste to cover the hairy surface by mixing powdered delatone and water, apply, and wipe off after two minutes; then wash the skin, and the hairs will be gone. This recipe is safe, speedy and sure.

LA CROSSE TO GO INTO TOURNEY

Paulson Organizes Bowling
Team to Enter Contest
Now Being Held in Winona

In order that La Crosse may be represented in the big bowling tournament now being held at Winona, Oscar Paulson intends to organize a club of north side bowlers to go there to compete in the tourney. Paulson has written the officials in charge of the tournament in regard to entering a La Crosse team and a reply is expected today. In the meantime the club will be picked and will undoubtedly be ready to compete in the meet within a short time.

A team picked from the north side bowlers would be able to put up a great battle for a high position as some great bowling has been seen at the bowling alleys this winter. It is likely that the club which it is planned to send to Winona would get a high standing and would give any team in the tourney a contest for first place. Winona has some new bowling alleys and according to reports they are among the best in this vicinity.

PARIS HAS TOTAL ECLIPSE OF SUN

PARIS, April 17.—The night life of Paris lasted twenty-four hours today. An eclipse of the sun was total at ten minutes afternoon, and the city was in total darkness. The moon and the stars could be seen and astronomers at all the local observatories were kept busy making exact measurements. Several made ascensions in balloons to secure a better view of the eclipse. The street lights were lit, cafes and stores deserted and street traffic halted.

CAPTAIN'S NEPHEW PROUD OF UNCLE

Nephew of Captain of Titanic Proud in His Sor-row Over Uncle's Fate

BALTIMORE, Md., April 17.—"Uncle Edwin went down with his ship. There may be some question as to the fate of other individuals, but there can be none as to him. I know my uncle well enough to know that he would seek the safety of every other soul on the vessel before he would think of himself."

There was a measure of pride in the manner of Edwin J. Harrington, master mechanic of the rail mills of the Maryland Steel company today.

"Captain Edwin J. Smith was my uncle and godfather," he said. "He entered the service of the White Star line as captain in 1884. He was considered by the officials of the company to be one of the most careful of men and has at times been criticised by his fellow officers for being too careful."

"He was commander in the royal naval reserves of Great Britain and during the Boer war was in command of the transports that conveyed the troops to the Transvaal. He is survived by a widow and one daughter, 14 years old, who live in Southampton, Eng."

"Captain Smith has commanded several vessels of the White Star line on their maiden voyages. I have never accompanied him on any of these, but have been with him several times on second voyages. It was my intention to go back to England with him on the return trip of the Titanic."

Mother—I really think you'd be happier if you married a man who has less money.

Daughter—Don't worry, mother; he will have less in a very short time.—Boston Transcript.

THREE CORNERED DEBATE PLANNED

La Crosse, Milwaukee and Platteville Normal Teams Will Argue the Referendum

A triangular debate in which the teams from La Crosse, Milwaukee and Platteville Normal schools will participate will take place on Friday evening. The question to be debated will be the adoption of the joint resolution No. 74, providing for the initiative and referendum in Wisconsin.

This year all the affirmative teams will debate in their home towns while the negative teams will travel. The La Crosse affirmative team will debate with Milwaukee in this city while the negative will journey to Platteville to argue with the affirmative team in that town.

The members of the La Crosse affirmative team are Arthur Hitt, W. McDonald, Fay Dougherty and Jean Rolfe, alternate. The negative are Benjamin Stevens, Earl Brandenberg, William Stevenson and Emil Krause as alternate. The two local teams are being coached by Prof. A. H. Sanford. Mr. Jones has consented to give the oration at the debate and doubtless many will want to hear him.

ORGANIZATIONS TO HELP FIRM

Board of Trade, Industrial Association and Progressive League Take Action

WILL ENLARGE THE FACTORY

National Gauge and Register Company's Rapid Growth Necessitates New Plant

Because of the large and ever increasing business of the National Gauge company and of the fact that they have outgrown their present plant it is planned to provide them with a larger factory and in their effort to expand their factory the board of trade, the industrial association and the North Side Progressive league have decided to combine and help them in every possible manner. At a meeting of the directors of the Progressive league last night it was decided that that organization would co-operate with the others to help the National Gauge and Register company in their effort to secure a larger plant. George Baum, Robert B. Lowry, C. F. Figgle and W. Dwyer, the directors, met with City Attorney A. H. Schubert last night to talk over the matter.

The present factory occupied by the National Gauge and Register company is proving inadequate for the large business of this concern and it is felt that a bigger factory is a necessity. A large number of men are employed by the company and they intend to employ fully one hundred by next year for this man men will be necessary to attend to the business.

These three organizations together with the National Gauge and Register company will meet to select a new site for the factory and also to plan for the new building which the concern is to have. No definite site for the new factory has yet been decided upon but this will be secured soon after which plans for a large new building will also be made. The plant will be made up to date in every respect.

The National Gauge and Register company is a concern which has grown quickly ever since it was organized and it is now recognized as one of the big industries of the north side. When the new site is secured it will be on the north side in the best location to be had.

BUTT HAD A WARNING

PRESIDENT'S AIDE HAD PREMONITION OF DEATH BEFORE HE LEFT ON HIS EUROPEAN TRIP

WASHINGTON, April 17.—A mysterious warning that he would meet death on his trip abroad, that ended in a night of terror in the ice-bound seas off the Great Banks, came to Major Archibald Butt before he left Washington.

Six weeks ago, when the major determined on a European trip to regain his health, a premonition that he might not return alive caused him to make his will. He called in his lawyer and closed up his affairs, preparing for death.

President Taft and other friends of the missing officer hoped against hope today that the scout cruiser Salem, speeding toward the Carpathia, would report Butt alive and well, but the conviction was general that he went down to death with the Titanic, after the women and children had been put into the boats.

PLEAD WITH OWNERS TO TAKE PRECAUTION

NEW YORK, April 17.—Thousands of messages from all parts of the country have been received at the offices of the trans-Atlantic liners, appealing to the companies to wireless the captains to take their vessels slowly through the berg-infested part of the Atlantic. Most of the messages were from persons having relatives or friends aboard boats now enroute either to Europe or America. The Carmania of the Cunard line was the only liner sailing for Europe today, being the only one scheduled to leave this port. According to the line officials she left with a full passenger list, the Titanic disaster causing no cancellations.

BEGGAR MUST TARRY THIRTY DAYS IN JAIL

John Kehoe's promise to "leave town and never stop going" if the judge would give him his liberty, failed to bring the desired result. When arraigned before Judge Brindley this morning, the prisoner, who is about 50 years of age, pleaded guilty to the charge of begging, but requested another chance and declared that he would never again come to La Crosse if his freedom was granted. Judge Brindley decided that a surer way of procuring his permanent absence would be to sentence him to thirty days in the county jail.

ATTORNEY'S CASE IS INVESTIGATED

MADISON, Wis., April 17.—Hilth Lehner, commissioner, has completed the taking of testimony at Crandon and is now at the governor's office in the capitol engaged in drafting his opinion in the case brought against District Attorney John F. Hooper of Forest county for malfeasance in office. On two of the charges brought against Hooper, Commissioner Lehner from the bench spoke in Hooper's favor.

In his opinion on the Kennard charge, in which Hooper was accused of shielding a man who was recently sentenced to prison for forgery, Commissioner Lehner, speaking from the bench, said: "The keen situation brought about in this community by the Kennard defalcations probably did more than anything else to bring on this crisis. After a careful consideration of all the testimony offered on this charge, I am convinced beyond any question that District Attorney Hooper showed the greatest diligence and efficiency. Here his close personal friend was concerned. Mr. Hooper was under the utmost test of official integrity, and I am unable to conceive how any man could have done better."

ONEIDA, April 17.—A special train carrying 200 members of the Elks' lodge at Green Bay was wrecked a mile west of this place late Monday night. The train was on the Seymour, Green Bay and Western. Spreading rails, it is thought, caused the accident. No one was injured. The engine and tender tipped over a sharp embankment and pinned the engineer in the cabin. He was extricated by the wrecking crew that rushed at once to the scene of the accident.

VESSELS CARRY TOO FEW BOATS

Steamboat Inspector Declares Large Liners Are Negligent About Number of Lifeboats

WASHINGTON, April 16.—"When it comes to a vessel of great size, vessels of 45,000 tons or so, carrying 2,500 to 3,000 passengers, there are not enough lifeboats carried to contain the passengers," said Supervising Inspector General George Uhler of the steamboat inspection service today. "It is a consummation devoutly to be wished that they should do so, but they do not do it. After they get up to a certain point, they are equipped with lifeboats according to tonnage, and not according to the number of passengers. As a rule, the great liners are not equipped with enough lifeboats to save the passengers. They are required to be equipped with enough life preservers, so that every passenger can have one and every member of the crew. This government has no jurisdiction over the question of how a vessel from England or other foreign countries shall be equipped as to lifeboats."

Uhler added that even American vessels of great size are lacking in the requisite number of lifeboats. The reason for this, he said, was that in the case of vessels carrying enormous numbers of passengers it was impracticable to carry enough boats for lack of room.

MAIL CLERKS ON BOAT WERE OLD IN U. S. SERVICE

NEW YORK, April 17.—The post-office officials announced this afternoon that the mail clerks, J. S. Marsh, Newark, 23 years in the service; O. S. Woodie, Washington, 20 years in the service, and W. L. Gwyn, Brooklyn, 18 years in the service, were in charge of the mail on the Titanic, and it is feared they went down with the wreck. Revised figures given out by the superintendent of foreign mails, say that there were 200 bags of registered mail on the Titanic and about 28,000,000 letters and packages of other mail matter.

CAPITOL DECORATOR MAY HAVE PERISHED

NEW YORK, April 17.—The question whether Frank D. Millet is one of the best known of the modern artists. He was coming to America to undertake several commissions, chief among which was the decoration of the new Wisconsin state capitol, at Madison. Whether he was among those rescued will not be known until the Carpathia gets in with her load of survivors.

CARPATHIA HAS ROOM

SHIP THAT RESCUED WOMEN OF TITANIC HAS AMPLE MEANS TO CARE FOR THE VICTIMS

NEW YORK, April 17.—The Carpathia, bringing in the Titanic survivors, is the flagship of the Cunard Adriatic fleet. She is not a first class, modern liner, but she is roomy and comfortable.

When the Carpathia sailed she had but 290 cabin, or saloon passengers and she has accommodations for 375, so there was room in these cabins for at least a part of the first cabin survivors. There was plenty of room in the steerage which has accommodations for 2,300 passengers and carried nothing like its full quota when she left. The Carpathia was well supplied with food, and the Cunard officers here believe she will have no difficulty caring for the survivors until she can land them in New York.

LUCKY ONES WHO MISSED THE BOAT

NEW YORK, April 17.—The White Star officers gave the following names on the shipping list of the Titanic which they said did not ship:

Mr. and Mrs. Adelman; Miss Nellie Dalbrost, George Hart, G. Lawrence, John H. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. George Turner, Mrs. George Wilkinson, and Miss Ada C. Wilkinson.

U. S. BOATS TO AID

NEW YORK, April 17.—The derelict destroyer Seneca and the revenue cutter Mohawk, prepared today, to start at once to convoy the Carpathia, carrying the Titanic survivors, into New York. The Mohawk was held up by lack of coal and forty tons of fuel were ordered alongside at 3 this afternoon.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT IS COMPLIMENTED

A compliment to the city of La Crosse upon its present provision against contagious diseases, in the form of a letter from the state health board addressed to Dr. J. M. Furman, requesting a copy of the ordinance under which the health department is operating, was received today. This is the twelfth request of this kind received since January 1, the other eleven being received from other cities wishing to organize health departments along the lines of that of La Crosse.

All speak in the highest terms of the efficiency and rank of the La Crosse department which has won a reputation throughout the state. Despite this fact Aldermen of the common council have introduced a resolution to abolish the office of health commissioner, the most important in the department.

FORMER MAYOR OF TOMAH DEAD

William J. McMullen Dies Shortly After Returning from Trip to California

WAS PROMINENT IN POLITICS

Many Improvements Made in City During His Administration; Successful in Business

TOMAH, Wis., April 17.—(Special.)—William J. McMullen, a prominent business man and politician, died at his residence on Superior avenue at five o'clock Tuesday afternoon, after an illness of several months of diabetes. Mr. McMullen was born February 10, 1860 on a farm near this city where he remained until he was 21 years of age. In 1882 he purchased his brother's dry line and six years later purchased a confectionary store and later purchased the building in which his store is at present and added a bakery. February 18, 1885 he married Theresa B. Treffer of Milwaukee. Mr. McMullen was alderman of the Second ward for four years and mayor of the city during the 1908-1910 administration and in that time the main street was paved with brick and the beautiful parkway constructed. The fountain was also constructed. He leaves to mourn a widow, a mother, six sons, Alva, Earl, Ray, Lloyd, Leon and Glen and one daughter, Catherine, and two brothers, Thomas A., of La Crosse, who was present at his death and Robert H., of Seattle; seven sisters, Mrs. W. Reikle, Mrs. Levi Bigelow, Mrs. Wm. Spooner, Mrs. Byron Gilson, Mrs. Bert Gilson and Cyphelia, all of this vicinity and Mrs. Wm. Fryer of Humboldt. His son, Earl, is on his way from California. Mr. McMullen had just returned Saturday after spending the winter in California.

BODIES OF SOME TITANIC VICTIMS ARE RECOVERED

Some of the missing details of the great ocean tragedy of the wrecked Titanic. It shows plainly that Captain Haddock must have been certain from the moment he received the first appeal for aid that the emergency was great. It will also lessen the fears of many of the relatives of the victims of the tragedy that the bodies of their loved ones would be lost forever. If the recovery of the bodies had been left until the vessels that left Halifax today reached the scene, many must have sunk forever while others must have been torn to pieces by the grinding ice floes that dot the scene.

Whether Captain Haddock received the real story of the events that immediately preceded the terrible disaster and loss of the finest vessel afloat is known only to himself, his wireless operator and the officials of the White Star line.

The striking feature of the tragedy is the admission of impotency on the part of the great Olympic, whose crown as the largest ship afloat was restored by the terrible disaster.

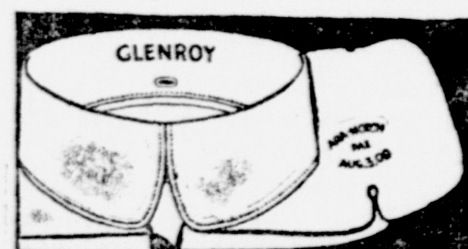

Docks Friday
The Cunard line announced that they had received a wireless dispatch from the Carpathia stating that at 11 o'clock last night she was 596 miles east of the Ambrose channel light, and would be off the Hook about nine o'clock Thursday night. She will probably anchor down the bay and come up to her dock Friday morning. The company said that the wireless stated all on board were well.

WILL DISCUSS PLANS FOR KENNEL SHOW

Plans for the fall kennel show will be discussed at a meeting of the La Crosse Kennel club to be held at the La Crosse club tomorrow night. Members of the club are confident of a successful show this year. Minneapolis, Eau Claire, Winona and Des Moines have all signified their intention to hold a kennel show this year and the local members depend upon this to increase the interest in the local show.

ORGAN PLAYER TO WED

Forty-nine years of bachelor happiness is about to drop into the background to make room for married bliss in the life of John Concilio. For years John, like all other artists, has devoted his life to producing art, his particular kind taking form in melodious sound waves from a large music box mounted on wheels. Heart cravings for feminine companionship have resulted in Concilio taking a bride of twenty. Francis Retzlaff is the name of the musician's choice. They signed for the marriage license in the county clerk's office today.

WILL PROBE THE TITANIC WRECK

Smith Resolution to Investigate the Sinking of the Giant Liner Is Adopted

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The senate adopted the Smith resolution to investigate the wrecking of the Titanic without discussion. It is expected that the committee on commerce will appoint a sub-committee to begin the inquiry.

Smith's resolution provides for an investigation of the wreck of the liner Titanic "with its attendant loss of life, so shocking to the civilized world," and to "determine the responsibility therefore, with a view to such legislation as may be necessary to prevent, so far as possible, any repetition of such a disaster."

It further provided that particular inquiry should be made "into the number of lifeboats, life rafts, life preservers and other equipment for the protection of passengers and crew, whether adequate inspection was made of the Titanic, in view of the large number of Americans traveling over a route commonly regarded as dangerous from icebergs, and whether it is feasible for congress to take steps looking to an international agreement to regulate the size of ships and designation of routes."

ONLY 700 SAVED IS MESSAGE FROM CARPATHIA TODAY

make themselves understood by the clerks and their grief was great. At times men or women would break from the line almost fainting and with tears running down their cheeks. Many sustained themselves with hope because the entire list of the survivors was not yet available and forced themselves to believe that eventually their loved ones would be saved.

Report Confirmed
The word sent to Washington by Commander Decker of the scout cruiser Chester that "The Carpathia reports the names of all first and second class passengers have been sent ashore" was believed at the White Star offices to mean that only those whose names have already been sent out were saved from the wreck of the Titanic. The others on board the Carpathia, it was believed, were third class passengers.

If this interpretation is true there is no hope for any of the noted men and women who are still missing. They must have gone down with the ship.

No news had left some hope, but the report from the Chester was accepted as true. Few of the third class passengers had been reported from and in addition there now came fear that the number rescued will be less than 700.

does not carry any of the shipwrecked people, but it is believed that she may furnish some details of the disaster.

Astor Drops Search
Vincent Astor was expected here today to make arrangements with some wrecking concern to make a search for the body of his father, John Jacob Astor, if he is lost. The young man did not appear here, however, and it is believed he will remain in New York to meet his stepmother, who is known to be aboard the Carpathia.

It is known that half a dozen fishing ships were within 200 miles of the wreck of the Titanic. It is believed that some of these may later have passed the scene. Some of these ships may arrive in port today with news.

NEWFOUNDLAND COAST DANGEROUS

That the fog-bound coast of Newfoundland contains more dangers than icebergs such as destroyed the huge ship Titanic and caused a terrible loss of life, is the belief of Alfred Harrison, clerk of federal court of La Crosse, who nearly lost his life in a wreck on Cape Race three years ago. In speaking of the Titanic disaster today, Mr. Harrison recalled what might have been a catastrophe in 1909, when he and his wife and daughter were returning from a pleasure trip to Europe, on the Canadian boat Lake Champlain.

"We were off the coast of Newfoundland," said Mr. Harrison, "and were making for Montreal. A big fog came up in the night and the ship was forced to run at half speed because of the danger from icebergs. We were lost three days and nights in the fog and managed to get about three hundred miles from our course. We were steaming along the third morning wondering where we were, when suddenly the fog lifted. The sight that greeted our eyes is one that I hate to think about. We were within half a mile of shore and were driving directly for the rocks. A few moments more and we would have been wrecked. The nature of the coast was such that it would have been impossible to land. There is no doubt that all on board would have been lost."

TAFT IS FOR LORIMER

HASTINGS, Neb., April 17.—"You couldn't get a clearer idea of the difference between our principles and those of our opponents than from the result of the fight in Illinois, where the only votes Taft received were the ones in Senator Lorimer's pocket."

With this statement, in which he dined at the Taft managers of Nebraska, Col. Roosevelt opened his campaign in the Nebraska presidential primary last night. He addressed a crowd of 1,500 in the Kerr Opera House.

"Gassie Gardner, in a telegram this morning, said Mr. Taft was against Lorimer," continued Roosevelt. "But Mr. Lorimer did not know it and no one knew it until Lorimer failed to carry Illinois for him. I was against Lorimer eighteen months ago when I refused to sit beside him at a banquet. I am against him now."

BUREAU IS IN LAND BUSINESS

The La Crosse branch of the state employment bureau has added one more activity to its already large list of duties. From now until the early part of the summer it will be engaged in a mild form of real estate business. That is, it will endeavor to furnish vacant lots for persons who wish to use them for gardening purposes. It will also endeavor to find persons who may be persuaded to use the vacant lots for gardening purposes. This was decided upon today by Judge Leonard Kleeber, superintendent of the local bureau following a request from the social democratic party that he take up the pushing of the "garden plot" campaign. Acting on the theory that gardening may furnish employment for some of the men that apply to his office for work, Mr. Kleeber agreed to undertake the campaign. All persons who have vacant lots to rent and all persons desiring vacant lots for gardening are requested to send their terms and addresses to the employment bureau.

WOMAN CHIEF OF CHILDREN BUREAU

WASHINGTON, April 17.—President Taft today appointed Miss Julia C. Lathrop of Chicago, to be chief of the new children's bureau. Miss Lathrop is at present associated with Jane Addams, in the work at Hull House, is a member of the board of charities of Illinois, and a Vassar graduate.

Miss Lathrop's appointment is unique in the fact that she is the first woman ever appointed a bureau chief by this government. Her position carries $5,000 per annum compensation.

1,200 INSURGENTS MEET IN PROTEST

Every M. W. A. Camp in Illinois Is Represented at the Elgin Convention

ELGIN, Ill., April 17.—Twelve hundred delegates, representing nearly all of the camps of the Modern Woodmen of America, in Illinois, gathered here today for the state convention gathered by Silver Leaf camp to protest against the increased insurance rates adopted by the head camp. The new rates go into effect January 1, 1913.

The purpose of the protest meeting according to the "insurgent leaders," is to outline steps to secure a withdrawal of the increased rates which are said to be objectionable to a large part of the membership. An effort will be made to secure cooperation with the lodge at Springfield in its appeal to the courts for an injunction against the head camp to prevent it from enforcing the new rates. Steps will also be taken to secure a reduction of the insurance dispute at the next state meeting of the head camp and a return to the old rates.

THEY DISCUSS WRECK

SINKING OF TITANIC OCCUPIES ATTENTION OF SENATE FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The sinking of the Titanic was discussed at great length today by the senate committee on foreign relations. No other business was transacted and the unprecedented marine disaster was the sole topic under consideration.

Members of the committee were unanimous in the opinion that there should be prompt legislation calculated to prevent a repetition of such horrors at sea. It was agreed that the commerce committee had sole jurisdiction in the matter.

The general opinion was expressed that congress had full power to regulate the equipment of all foreign vessels entering American ports. An international agreement to accomplish the desired result is entirely unnecessary.

It was pointed out that drastic laws could be enacted forbidding any vessel to leave an American port unless equipped in compliance with the statutes. The same principle was applied in the immigration act which required all steamers to allow certain prescribed space for each steerage passenger. Foreign vessels were compelled to immediately meet the requirement.

was disabled in collision or they were not filled to capacity in the scramble to leave the sinking ship. Besides the life boats the Titanic carried a number of collapsible rafts, none of which were launched, according to the number rescued.

The local mayor today opened a subscription list for the relief of the widows and orphans of the crew of the Titanic.

The Kitchen Floor

Most housekeepers would prefer to keep the kitchen floor unpainted and "in the white," were it not for the labor of keeping such a floor in satisfactory condition. However, the work of scrubbing will be lightened and milk white floors can be easily attained, by dissolving in each pailful of warm water a tablespoon of Gold Dust washing powder. If scrubbed this way, each week old stains that seem to be ground into the wood will soon disappear altogether. This is also excellent for scrubbing stone steps and woodwork.

BERRY RESIGNS HIS POSITION

Humane Officer of La Crosse for Twenty-seven Years Takes Vacation to Improve Health

C. H. Berry, humane officer of La Crosse for the last twenty-seven years handed in his resignation at the meeting of the Humane Society and Associated Charities held at the city hall last night. Mr. Berry's resignation was due to failing health. He will leave for the coast in a few weeks where he will spend the summer in an attempt to improve his health.

Mr. Berry was considered one of the most efficient humane officers in the state and was held in high esteem by the members of the La Crosse society. No arrangements have been made toward filling the vacancy.

If plans of the society which were discussed at last night's meeting materialize, the churches of La Crosse will set aside one Sunday in each year to be known as "Mercy Sunday." Rev. Henry Faville and Rev. George Longbrake were appointed a committee of two to carry on the work relative to establishing a day of this kind. The plan is to have all of the clergymen of the city deliver a sermon on the duty of the public to the poor upon this day. It was suggested to have the first Mercy Sunday during May.

FEARS FOR HIS CHUM

NEW YORK, April 17.—Pacing the corridors of the White Star offices here, Joseph Francis Marrington today began the third day of his ceaseless vigil.

Marrington is a present day Damon, seeking assurances that his Pythias is alive. Heart sick with the dread that this chum, William Slocum Lambert, of Greensboro, Pa., is among the Titanic's dead, Marrington has not left the White Star offices since Monday morning. At no time have the officials been able to give him any word of his friend. Not even when at dawn today the worn officials gently assured him that there was "no news," did Marrington give up his quest.

"He is my friend," said Marrington. "He saved my life years ago, and now I can do nothing for him. We started into the jungles of Ecuador, searching for rubber. All our natives either died or deserted. We were almost without food in the wilderness. I wanted to die, but Lambert kept me going and brought me to civilization. I was almost mad, but he kept me on. We sealed our friendship in the bitter days of hardship. Now I am afraid he is gone, but God is good and may have preserved him. I won't give up until I hear something definite."

GUSTAVE ELSTRON DIES THIS MORNING

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Charles Houska of this city.

The funeral will be held Friday afternoon from the residence, 1613 South Eighth street, at 2 o'clock, and from the Norwegian Lutheran church, Sixth and Division streets, at 2:30 o'clock, with Rev. Magdalen officiating at the services. Interment will be made in Oak Grove cemetery.

LA CROSSE MAN WEDS IOWA GIRL

Mr. Fred Richards of La Crosse and Miss Adah Winsor of Waverly, Iowa, were married Monday morning at 8 o'clock at St. Mary's church. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bridegroom, 828 South Fourth street. Mr. Carl Ivers of Prairie du Chien acted as best man, and Miss Tessie Richards as the bridesmaid. The young couple received many useful and beautiful gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Richards left on an afternoon train for their home in Strawberry Point, Iowa, where Mr. Richards has charge of a telephone station. Their many friends joined in wishing them success in their wedded life.

LEAGUE MEET TO BE AT WINONA

President John A. Elliott will call a meeting of the Minny league directors the last of this month for the purpose of adopting the schedule and making plans for the season which opens May 14. The meeting will be held at Winona, but the date has not yet been set. However, the meeting will be held as soon as Rochester has completed its plans for the season.

In a letter to the local club yesterday, the management of the Minny league team said that advertising would be sent here soon and that the club will be here to play the Outcasts on May 5.

President Elliott yesterday received a postal card from Joe Safford, former manager of the Outcasts, who is now conceded an outfield position with the Troy, N. Y., club. Joe's club was in New York for some time, and while in that city he met Dolan, former Minny leaguer, who is now playing third base for the New York Highlanders.
Safford is making good with the Troy team and it is thought that he will be one of the regular outfielders for that club this season.

GENUINE
Old Country
GREEN SOAPFAN-ATICAL
FANCIES

Milwaukee has purchased Kid El-berfield, the famous infielder who has for many years been a star in the big leagues with the New York and Washington Americans. It is thought that Elberfield will play second base for the Brewers as it is said that the work of Charles at the keystone sack is not satisfactory. Manager Duffy has many former big leaguers on his team and if he gets many more he will have a regular big league club for Milwaukee.

After winning their first game of the season on Monday the Cubs went all to pieces yesterday and the St.
Louis Cardinals literally slaughtered them by the score of 20 to 5. Only eight innings were played but Koney's team made ten runs in the fourth frame and they then had an easy victory. St. Louis has now won four out of five games and if they can keep up that pace they will be a stumbling block for the best of the National league clubs.

Schardt, former local pitcher, twirled a few innings for Brooklyn against the Phillies yesterday after Knetzer had been knocked off the slab and Doolin's men failed to score on him in two frames. Brooklyn lost, 4 to 2.

If his Satanic majesty ever had horns he probably wore them off butting in.

NEW LEAGUE HAS NO PRESIDENT

SUPERIOR, Wis., April 17.—L.
A. Van Praugh of Winnipeg has declined the presidency of the newly organized Central International Baseball league. Robert Liggett, the sporting editor of a Duluth daily, and C. D. Cheverell are mentioned for the job.

The business men of Grand Forks have decided to give up the new league baseball activities because Sunday ball is not permitted there.
Sunday games will probably be played at East Grand Forks, Minn.
The city offers a cash bonus to promoters who will take hold of the new league baseball proposition.

Winnipeg, Fargo, Virginia, Superior and Duluth are ready to go through with the plan.

The longest way round is the sweetest way home—for a pair of lovers.

CHICAGO PLAYS ONLY
CONFERENCE TEAMS

CHICAGO, April 17.—The University of Chicago football schedule for 1912, announced today, contains only the names of the seven other "Big Eight" colleges. Director of Athletics Stagg declared that Chicago's new position with reference to the conference is shown in the schedule.
The annual game with Cornell has given place to one with Iowa and two other eastern teams which asked for dates were refused.

The schedule follows:
October 2, Indiana at Chicago;
October 16, Iowa at Chicago; October 26, Purdue at Chicago; November 2, Chicago at Wisconsin; November 9, Northwestern at Chicago; November 16, Chicago at Illinois; November 23, Minnesota at Chicago.

Many a man who thinks he is a bird isn't able to feather his own nest.

ZANDERS HAS A
SHADE ON BARRETT

MADISON, Wis., April 17.—Ernie Zanders, Chicago, had a shade on Lee Barrett, Milwaukee, in their round fight before the Madison Athletic club last night. It was a great fight and both boys went at top speed from the first to the last round. Although handicapped by height and reach Barrett was the aggressor much of the time, but Zan-ders ran up a lead in the last three rounds, giving him a slight shade.
Harry Stout acted as the third man in the ring.

A large new curtain has also been purchased and will be used for the first time Friday evening when the vaudeville show is to be presented.

A new lighting arrangement has also been made for the stage and auditorium and a regulation theater switchboard has been installed so that the electrician can control every light on the stage and auditorium from the stage. New lights have been added and the footlights have been arranged so that the best of lighting effects are secured.

The program for the show is as follows:
